

Asia's Best Diving Heaven in Cambodia

7 SEPTEMBER 2010

NO COMMENT

4
shares

Share

Submit
to digg

 Like

6 people like this. Be the first of your friends.

2

tweets

submit

retweet

Diving heaven eco-friendly and undeniably beautiful, Cambodia offers some of the best diving in Asia. Located on the pristine coastline of Sihanoukville & Ream is a unique holiday destination offering the ultimate diving experience in Southeast Asia. Pioneering green resort development in the region is the luxurious Song Saa Island Resort, an environmentally sensitive resort committed to the protection of marine habitats and local wildlife. Firmly devoted to conservation, a team of full-time marine biologists are on-board and dedicated to a conservation program. This program has been designed to help Cambodia learn from the experience of Thailand and develop in a manner that will reflect the beauty of the environment whilst preserving the unique nature and marine life Cambodia has to offer.

The diving in the region is second to none. With an exotic array of marine life and crystal clear waters, Sihanoukville & Ream offer a diving experience like no other. With an array of anemones and a captivating collection of corals, the area's diverse offering make it a favourite for diving enthusiasts and nature lovers alike. Few places in the world capture the imagination of divers like Sihanoukville & Ream; marine biodiversity is high and the "back-to-nature" experience of the region is not found in most diving hot-spots.

For those who are not experienced, there are several dive centres that offer PADI courses and a number of companies that will take you out to the uninhabited islands off the coast. An ideal destination for all divers, Sihanoukville & Ream is a must visit destination to experience the wonders of the underwater world.

